ARMY BEAR WAS GIVEN FREEDOM

WAS MASCOT BATTERY C, 119TH FIELD ARTILLERY

The four-year-old black bear mascot of Battery C of the 119th Field Artillery of Flint was given his freedom in Portage Creek swamp last Sunday morning. The bear is about four years old and since a cub had been performing the service of mascot. It is a female animal and just where it was captured is not known here, but it was at first the mascot for a Yale University football team.

The bear was given to Battery C by S. V. Blair, proprietor of the Kewpee Hotel System, with the understanding that it would be liberated when the camp broke up.

Mr. Babbitt reports that he never saw an animal apparently so tickled to be free as was the "mascot." It first ran about hither and thither and cut up many capers, and in as many minutes climbed four jackpine trees and finally nimbly off into the swamp. Many pictures were taken of the bear during its final hours in captivity, as it was departing from its fond friends of the Battery.

Mr. Babbitt said that there were no doubt other bears in that swamp, unless the shooting of the heavy artillery, which place had frightened them away, but, if so, there was no doubt but that they would return. At this time of the year bears feed largely on berries, later they fatten up on acorns and when cold weather comes they go to water and take in a large drink and then find a secluded place that is protected from flood water and doze off into slumber that continues until early spring.

MRS. CLARISSA TAYLOR PASSED AWAY

WAS ONE OF GRAYLING'S EARLIEST RESIDENTS

With the passing of Mrs. Clarissa Taylor at her home at 7:00 o'clock Thursday night, Grayling loses one of its earliest residents. Mrs. Taylor and her husband, the late Adelbert Taylor, came to Grayling from New York state 40 years ago this fall and had made their home here since that time.

Clarissa Taylor, Merchant was born in Battle Creek, Michigan, April 26, 1852. When six years old she went with her parents to New York state, where in November 1867 she was wed to Adelbert Taylor. In the fall of 1878 they answered the cry of the pioneers and joined the Grayling pioneers. In New York they were neighbors to the J. K. Bates family, who, the following spring, came to Grayling to reside.

The first home of the Taylors was located at that part of the Salling Hanson Company lumber yard where the track that side of the river, being the residential district of Grayling at that time, and Mr. Taylor was employed as sawyer for the Goodale lumber firm. Some years later Mr. Taylor built their present home on Peninsular avenue, where the family have since lived.

Mr. Taylor took an active interest in civic affairs, and held many of the township and county public offices during his time. He passed away in March, 1923.

Mrs. Taylor's life was filled with self-sacrifice, the outstanding thing being her service to others. In the earlier days she was Grayling's only practical nurse, and it made no difference where she was called or what hour of the day or night she was always ready to go. When a mother was worried over the health of her babe, Mrs. Taylor was called for advice. For all of this Mrs. Taylor received very little recompense, but that made no difference to her, she gladly yielded to any sick call.

Since January 1925 she has been ill and an invalid most of the time, having been unable to leave her home since that time. Her daughter, Miss Florence, has been constantly at her side and ever ready to do for her mother. For a week or so previous to her death she was in a serious condition and her son and daughter from away were called to her bedside.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon with services at the family home in charge of Rev. J. W. Greenwood of the Michigan Memorial church. Many old friends and neighbors of the family were in attendance at the last rites of this kind old lady. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

Those surviving the deceased are three daughters and two sons, Miss Florence at home, Mrs. George Darling and Floyd Taylor of Grayling, Mrs. William Butler and William Taylor of Detroit, also four grandchildren, Florence and William Butler of Detroit, Alvin LaChapelle and Ethel Taylor of Grayling.

The Great Orator has decided to leave out that passage about a return to "old-fashioned Jeffersonian principles," since a loud unidentified person in the back of the hall wanted to know what they were.—Detroit News.

His Second Visit to France

GENTRY BROS. CIRCUS HERE SEPT. 5TH

500 PEOPLE WILL ENTERTAIN YOU

Those who say, "all circuses are alike," are slated to get a big surprise when the Gentry Bros. Shows exhibit in Grayling on September 5th, because the performance of the Gentry Bros. this season is unlike that of its past 38 seasons and those of the other circuses presented here in past years. The Gentry Brothers performance is setting a new standard in circus productions. No expense has been spared to provide one of the most novel and entertaining circus programs ever offered on this continent.

Not only have the stars of this country and of Europe been drafted to take a part in this spectacular offering but also the talented performers from the more distant lands, the South Sea Islands, India, Borneo, Afghanistan, Persia, and the nearer countries in South America and Central America. Each of these have contributed their talents and present the most novel program ever offered by an American circus.

Great care has been taken to keep out of the routine and the amazing acts of the 60 acrobats, 30 aerialists, 60 riders, and scores of other performers are absolutely new and never before have been seen in this country. Many acres are required to house the immense tents of the Gentry Bros. Shows this season and more than 500 people are required to present the performance. Gentry Brothers have invested more than $750,000 in equipment.

The mile-long spectacular street parade will be given at 11 a. m. on shine and the doors to the mammoth menagerie tent open at 1 and 7 p. m. The big show performance begins at 2 and 8 p. m.

To the kiddies as well as their parents, a visit to the Gentry Bros. Shows will prove to be a two-hour journey through a joyland of the highest type of circus entertainment and an unforgettable amusement as well as educational treat. Among those who will contribute much to the enjoyment of the program will be the 30 famous clowns. These play-boys in their eccentric make-up have scores of new stunts that are proving great innovations and in keeping with the novel production of the entire circus performance.

Don't miss seeing the Circus, September 5th.

DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE LUNCHEON

For the pleasure of Mrs. Holger Peterson, Mrs. Oscar Hanson was hostess at a most charmingly appointed bridge luncheon at her summer home at Lake Margrethe, Tuesday afternoon. The luncheon was served on very attractively arranged tables at the Hanson dining hall. Six tables were filled for bridge later in the afternoon. High scores were held by Mrs. James Hartwick and Mrs. Axel Mickelson of Detroit. Guests from out of the city were Mrs. Waldo Heron of Detroit, Mrs. Burrows of Lansing, Miss Plummer of New York City, Mrs. Robt. McKay of West Branch and Mrs. Gerald Hutton of Rochester, N. Y.

FLAG-SYMBOLISM

The flag's design was fixed not by aesthetic considerations, but wholly by a desire to suggest the territorial growth of the country and to employ colors and features which would give some impression of the dominant aspirations of the American people—the red for the wars and strife which gave the country its being, the white for the peaceful inclinations of all Americans, and the blue field with its white stars, as a mark of the deeply religious character of their people and their hopeful and lofty ambitions for the future of their country.—Indianapolis News.

DETROIT YOUTH BURIED AT CAMP

BODY IS INTERRED ON JOHNSON HILL, OVERLOOKING LAKE MARGRETHE

When burial services were held last Thursday for Sergeant John Conroy, of Company D, 125th Infantry, of Detroit, who died in camp last week from pneumonia, the body was interred on Johnson Hill, northwest of camp and overlooking Lake Margrethe. Henceforth, Johnson Hill, named after Carl Johnson, of the 125th Infantry, the first officer of the Thirty-second division killed in action in France, will be the camp burial ground.

Full military honors were paid to Sergeant Conroy and Captain William P. Schulte, chaplain of the 125th Infantry, read the burial service. Despite the two deaths here, Colonel John D. Buck, of Detroit, division surgeon, said that the camp this year was most healthy, there being only one per cent of illness in camp. The regular army rate, Colonel Buck said, is two per cent.

General Compliments Division

Major General Lassiter said he was impressed with the work of the Thirty-second division troops here, and that Camp Grayling was one of the finest training grounds he had ever seen.

GEORGE A. ENTSMINGER

George A. Entsminger, son of Warren and Eliza Entsminger, was born near Mentone, Indiana, April 14th, 1893, and died at Grayling, Michigan, August 17th, 1927.

At the age of seventeen, he united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Tama, Indiana. He was married December 23rd, 1913, to Miss Bertha Ramsdell, to which union were born six children, William Pauline, Francis, Janice, Kieth, and Robert.

The funeral was held from his late residence on Saturday, August 20th, Rev. J. W. Greenwood officiating. The immediate relatives were present.

He leaves to mourn his passing, his immediate members of his family, his parents and one sister, also an aged grandmother and many relatives and friends.

OCEAN FLYERS LOST IN PACIFIC DERBY

Golden Eagle and Miss Doran Fail to Reach Honolulu; Woolaroc, Aloha Win.

AIR DERBY FACTS

Course—Oakland to Honolulu, 2,400 miles. Stakes—$25,000 for first place, $10,000 for second.

Winners—Monoplane Woolaroc, Art Goebel, pilot; W. V. Davis, navigator, first. Monoplane Aloha, Martin Jensen, pilot; Paul Schluter, navigator, second.

Time—Woolaroc, 26 hours 17 minutes 33 seconds; Aloha, 28 hours 10 minutes 20 seconds.

Other Starters—Biplane Miss Doran, carrying J. A. Pedlar, pilot; V. R. Knipe, navigator; Miss Mildred Doran, passenger. Monoplane Golden Eagle, Jack Frost, pilot, and Gordon Scott, navigator. (Both planes missing.)

Death Toll—Three aviators killed en route to starting point at Municipal airport, Oakland; three planes demolished.

Cost to Backers—Approximately $250,000. Gasoline bill alone $2,000.

Total Entries—Sixteen. Two never obtained planes, two were unable to reach the starting point, two entrants killed, one disqualified, one withdrew, two forced back by plane trouble, two planes crashed on runway, four continued the flight.

Reward for Missing Aviators—A total of $10,000 has been offered for the recovery, dead or alive, of the missing aviators.

Rescue Plane Reported Lost—The plane Dallas Spirit, piloted by Capt. William Edwin of Dallas, Texas, a rescue craft, was reported lost in the search for the missing flyers.

San Francisco Forty Destroyers, merchant vessels and aircraft have been participating in the hunt for the two planes—the Golden Eagle and the Miss Doran—which sailed into the air from Oakland airport a few days ago with high hopes of reaching Honolulu in competition for the James Hole $25,000 prize for a non-stop run to Honolulu, a distance of 2,400 miles.

While the interest in the flight swelled to the search over the Pacific, tucked safely in their hangars at Wheeler field, Honolulu, were the monoplane Woolaroc and Aloha, which landed at the finishing point. The Woolaroc, piloted by Art Goebel, won first prize of $25,000, and the Aloha, in second place, gets prize money of $10,000.

Goebel skulked across the long course in 26 hours 17 minutes and 33 seconds, while Jensen's time was 28 hours 10 minutes and 20 seconds.

Qua of the unfinished plant carried Mildred Doran, pretty twenty-two-year-old Michigan school teacher, with J. A. Pedlar, pilot, and Liegt. V. R. Knipe, navigator.

The other was the cigar-shaped monoplane Golden Eagle, piloted by Jack Frost of New York and navigated by Gordon Scott of Santa Monica.

Miss Doran's plane went into the sea after it was forced back to the Oakland airport from its first start in the biplane derby on account of engine trouble, and went out again despite the warning of Lieut. Ben Wyatt, navigation officer, who had inspected all entrants in the aerial contest.

But Miss Doran was adamant in her refusal to remain behind in the race and joined with Pedlar and Knipe in a second start down the runway and off through the Golden Gate.

All the modern agencies of communication have been thrown into full play in search for the missing planes, neither of which carried radio-sending sets.

Airplanes have been zooming out from the shores of Hawaii and California scanning the broad expanses of the Pacific, where the flyers may yet be battling the elements in their planes or in rubber-inflated lifeboats which they took for just such an eventuality.

The fate of Miss Doran was cause for greatest anxiety owing to the fear it may have been forced down again after it left the starting point and dumped into the sea with a ton of gasoline in the tanks. The possibilities of a smashup and quick sinking loomed large in this picture, for the plane's load would have made a landing at sea a most hazardous task.

The Golden Eagle was sent into the race equipped to care for just such an emergency. Its navigable was considered one of the most skillful and Pilot Frost had a machine performing perfectly at the take-off.

Bagdanovitch Navy Crew Boss Annapolis, Md.—Academy athletic authorities announced that Midshipman Michael P. Bagdanovitch has been elected to captain the 1928 crew.

HOUGHTON LAKE WINS RETURN SHOOT

LOCALS EVEN SCORE WHEN THEY DEFEAT W. BRANCH

Grayling trap shooters lost their second match with the crack shots of Houghton Lake last week Thursday afternoon. While the visitors registered high scores—the local shooters seemed off form and averages fell far below the usual standings.

The score sheets show the following results:

Found West Branch Easier

The local shooters went to West Branch Sunday morning to contest against the nimrods of that city, and easily carried away the laurels. Grayling shot two squads, one of five and the other of six men. The scores of the local shooters were as follows:

Squad No. 1

	Total
Holger Hanson	24 21 45
J. W. Hartwick	20 23 43
O. W. Hanson	21 24 45
A. E. Mickelson	14 20 34

Squad No. 2

	Total
O. P. Schumann	12 15 27

Marius Hanson	17 18 35
Lewis Mickelson	19 20 39
Nels Mickelson	15 19 34
C. P. Mickelson	18 18 36

Esbern Hanson made a clean score of 25 targets in the first match and 22 in the second, having the best score of the day with a total of 47 out of 50 birds. The falling off of Carl Mickelson was quite a surprise to every one when he turned in a score of 36 out of 50 birds. This is very unusual as Mr. Mickelson is generally one of the top scorers. Just one of those days that come to everyone occasionally. While the score of O. P. Schumann was the lowest of any of the Grayling shooters, it was big enough to beat out Editor Crandall of West Branch. The latter promises to get even later, but "Try and do it."

Hanson-Mickelsons to Shoot Match The Hanson and Mickelson families are able to present sounds of trapmen of no mean ability and, on a warmer of a big dinner, they will test their marksmanship in a shoot next Sunday. There will be one match at the Carl Mickelson traps at Lake Margrethe at 10:00 A. M. and the final at Houghton Lake at 2:30 P. M.

The Mickelson squad is to be made up of A. E. Mickelson, P. L. Mickelson and two sons, Lewis and Frank, all of Detroit and Carl Mickelson of Mason.

The Hanson squad will be: Esbern and son Junior, O. W. Hanson, Marius Hanson and Holger Hanson. This promises to be a very interesting event.

GLADWIN DEVELOPMENT IS OUTSTANDING

One of the outstanding developments planned and in course of construction in Northern Michigan is Pebble Beach, located one mile north and two miles west of Gladwin in Gladwin county on Wiggins Lake. The development includes 646 acres bordering on water frontage. H. A. Hookins of Saginaw, associated with such developments as Coral Gables and Hollywood-by-the-Sea, owns and is developing the property.

When completed, the development will include a nine-hole golf course, tennis and horseshoe courts, a baseball diamond, archery and trap shooting grounds, bowling on the green and a complete playground for children. A club house, 80 by 210 feet, to include dining room, billiard room, 32 sleeping rooms, fireplace, ladies' parlor, etc., two stories in height, will be built of field stone. Eleven cottages are now under construction.

The community recreational section of the development is an island around which runs the Cedar River. The golf course, which has been planned and is under construction, has been done will measure 3400 yards. A bridge path consisting of a 60-foot road will follow the edge of the water for a distance of four and one-half miles. Cottages will be equipped with electric lights.

One of the features of the development will be a fish hatchery, in the old river bed which was bared thru the construction of a dam. Blue gills, wall eyes, black bass and trout will be propagated.

The outstanding feature of the whole development is the quiet dignified manner in which the work is being done. There is an entire absence of sensational advertising, brass bands and circus publicity. Mr. Hookins, the owner, seems to be animated by idealistic motives in his plans and commercial instincts are apparently subordinate to the creative impulses, which animate him.

126TH INF. BAND THANKS OPPORTUNITY FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS

The 126th Infantry band wishes to take this opportunity to extend their thanks to the Opportunity and Lady Rebekahs for the nice party given them on Wednesday evening, August 17.

The boys certainly enjoyed the dinner, and the coffee made by the ladies just "hit the spot." The boys are still talking about the good time they had dancing and trust they will become better acquainted with the young Grayling ladies who were in attendance at the dance. There are some real gentlemen in camp, as was shown by the conduct of our boys that evening.

Members of 126th Inf. Band.

F. L. Michelson having business on the shore, enjoyed the races at Tawas and came home by way of Bay City, Saturday evening.

Mrs. R. S. Babbitt came home last Friday, looking as though she had enjoyed the summer. Archie drove over with her, returning Saturday.

Mrs. J. K. Bates and her daughter, Mrs. H. Pond, took the train Saturday for a visit with friends at Mason.

A marriage license was issued yesterday by the county clerk to Mr. Samuel S. Phelps and Miss Olga Hanson, both of Grayling.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Ostrander will attend the grand rally of Patrons of Big Rock and Atlanta Granges, at Atlanta, Montmorency county, Aug.

30th. Mrs. N. P. Salling and Mrs. Hunt, of Anderson, Ind., left on the evening train Tuesday for Mackinaw Island and other resorts on the lake shore.

Last Friday evening the home of John Love in Beaver Creek was invaded by a large crowd, to whom the family at once willingly surrendered. It was a perfect surprise and most enjoyable.

Rose Mayo was at the Opera House last Friday evening, and gave a pleasant rendition of "Under Two Flags," exhibiting more than ordinary talent, worthy of better support than is given her. Our band gave several selections, and Miss Thora Arnbjornson presided at the piano, winning gratifying applause.

DO YOU KNOW—

That it is claimed Michigan profited to the extent of more than $1,000,000 in 1926 from the out-of-state tourist through the agency of gas taxes alone at the rate of two cents per gallon?

That a single advertisement of the East Michigan Tourist Association, telling of the section's recreational advantages cost over $1,000?

That all literature sent out by the East Michigan Tourist Association mentions "E. M. T. Service" and that members are supplied with E. M. T. service signs free of charge?

TOLERANCE

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK

Dean of Men, University of Illinois

IT IS quite clear that the Dunlups do not get on well together. Even in the company of other people they nag each other a good deal. The cause of their disagreement is rather a slight one when looked at in an unprejudiced way. It is his carelessness as to his appearance which constantly irritates her; and the fact that she is deliberate, if not a little late, with meals or in her preparations for going out that drives him constantly into a perturbed state of mind.

"I don't believe you've combed your hair or washed your face since you got up this morning," she will say to him, "and your clothes look as if you had come out of an ash barrel." Were there not some element of truth in what Mrs. Dunlap is saying it might pass unnoticed by her spouse. But Dunlap has been too long around with the furnace, and he hasn't given much attention to his toilet, and so her remarks get under his skin and he comes back with another "Well, I've had time enough to shave and take a bath and put on dinner clothes while I've been waiting for a few bites to eat. Why can't you begin things a little earlier and have dinner on time for once in our lives? It's too much for me. A man can't always be looking like Beau Brummell."

You can see that with this attitude of mind they have a pleasant evening together. Neither one deceived the other before they were married. Dunlap's clothes were pretty much out of press and his hair was tousled when he used to call on Martha Ball, and he never found her ready at the appointed time, but when he was married, and they got together, and they got on beautifully, as they might do today if each would exercise a little patience and tact.

The Carlsons had their first quarrel or misunderstanding over Mrs. Carlson's not being ready to go to a reception at the time he had called the cab. Carlson is one of those men who never misses a train in his life, and who has wasted hours of valuable time by getting ready before it is anything like time to start, or by going to a committee meeting a half hour before any one else arrives.

"It didn't really make any difference whether we were there at half past eight or not," she said to him after their quarrel was over, "and why should we both have an unhappy evening for such a trifle as my being ten minutes late?"

"Why, indeed?" Carlson asks himself. And now when he is ready ahead of time, instead of pacing up and down the hall growing perspiring and irritated

Farm Bureau Notes

R. D. Bailey, Co. Agricultural Agent

"Under field conditions a sufficient supply of humus (decaying vegetable matter) is of highest importance. Investigation has shown that continued cropping may result in the supply of humus being decreased from one-third to one-half in a period of not more than 15 years."—Professor Alfred Vivian, Agricultural College of Ohio.

Last week we sent to each farmer in the county the following postal card. It is so short, so clear, and on a matter so important to each Crawford county farmer that he cannot reasonably refuse to read it. Having read it, why should any reasonable man fail to act on it? Here's the card:

Not Necessary to Miss It

Perhaps you read the circular that I recently sent you about sowing six pecks of cheap rye with 20 pounds of inoculated winter vetch per acre in your corn the last week of this month.

I do hope that you are interested in this cheap, good plan for soil improvement that so many use, and will not fail to use it too. If you have no rye left over, or have not threshed by the time you must sow, am quite certain that you can borrow the few bushels of rye that you will need. Get inoculation for vetch of the county agent. A 25-cent bottle inoculates a bushel (60 pounds) of vetch. May I again urge you to lose card. It is so short, so clear, and on a matter so important to each Crawford county farmer that he cannot reasonably refuse to read it. Having read it, why should any reasonable man fail to act on it? Here's the card:

Not Necessary to Miss It

Perhaps you read the circular that I recently sent you about sowing six pecks of cheap rye with 20 pounds of inoculated winter vetch per acre in your corn the last week of this month.

How Farmers Differ

The response to the "Vetch and Rye" campaign—that the county agent is pushing, plainly shows—how men differ.

That one of the best of farm practices is to plow under some green, growing stuff, is common knowledge to all who know anything about farming. All such know, too, that such treatment is good for both clay and sandy soil.

Here comes along the county agent urging the sowing the last few days of August, of a cheap, quick, sure crop (vetch and rye) for that purpose. A strong appeal to all farmers to do it is made in each August number of the Avalanche. Four (4) circulars on the same subject will be received during August by each farmer. None can fail to have brought to his attention that this is, to farmers, a highly important matter, and that right now is the time to attend to it.

The agent is not satisfied with the number of responses to these urgent and timely appeals. The response plainly shows how farmers differ. Some respond promptly and cheerfully, and will profit in the future by doing so.

Some may read about it in the Avalanche and promptly forget it. Some probably do not even read it when they see that it is a call on them to do something.

Some will read the circulars and the Avalanche and say, "Yes, I guess it's a good thing; but, I'm too poor." So it will go. Those who drive around the county next spring will be able to plainly see who knows how to take care of land and who does not.

It is a matter of big importance to all Grayling business men as to what farmers take up with this vetch and rye campaign for cheap, quick, sure soil improvement.

It is of importance to our business men, because it should help them to know the financial reliability of a farmer. There are not many farmers who do not, sometime, want financial accommodations at bank or store.

How "good" can a business man think a farmer is when that farmer's soil, which he earns money with, is already poor, and that farmer will do nothing to make that soil better?

If I was a business man here, I would, sure as the sun rises, manage my credit to farmers according to whether the farmer keeps his land in good producing condition, cares well for it, feeds it, keeps things slicked up around the buildings, raises big crops, keeps the right number of good cows, well fed, well stabled. Any other kind of a farmer is a poor risk.

A Farmer's Dollar

A farmer's dollar is worth as much to business men as anybody else's dollar.

Our business men cannot afford to have a farmer close up business—and move away because he was starved out. This has happened many times in the past in the county, and is going to happen more unless farmer and business man take an interest in keeping up the fertility, the earning power of the land.

Can You Beat It?

The writer defies anyone to produce a cheaper, more sure, more timely plan to so keep up fertility than this one of now sowing vetch and rye, for plowing under next spring. If you have a better plan, trot it out.

Stable Manure is Good

Stable manure is splendid for soil of course. Who has enough of it for all the land that should be fertilized? No one has; not one farmer. Then, the next thing that ages of experience shows, is to grow a green manure crop. Clover is splendid for this. So is alfalfa. So is sweet clover. Have you these to spare now, to plow under? You know that you do not have.

Vetch and rye is your next best thing. Rye at about a dollar a bushel and vetch at 15 to 20 cents a pound are cheaper for you, than you can haul manure, even if you had it to spare.

Let's all come across and do these right things by our land, the real source of our living!

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON FRANCINE'S THRIFT

As Helen settled herself in Aunt Emmy's big chair she said: "Jack Hunt has bought the Briggs place. I never was so astonished in my life Jack didn't have a dollar when he married Francine and now he's bought a house."

"Well, my dear, it's not so surprising to me. Francine is responsible for their prosperity."

"Why, Aunt Emmy, I thought she was awfully frivolous. I remember how disappointed I was when Jack married her. She seemed entirely too pretty and too well-dressed to be a good wife. When I dined at their house I thought she was frightfully extravagant about her table. She must have paid her cook a lot to have the food she served."

Aunt Emmy smiled. "I liked Francine from the first," she said. "She and I became good friends. She told me how worried she was because Jack did not seem to think of the future and never tried to save money. By everything about housekeeping was as to her that she was glad to come with her little problems. I advised her to save regularly, no matter how hard it might be. She coaxed Jack to open an account at the bank for her household money. He thought it was silly because they had so little. She said she would keep more accurate accounts. If she had a bank account, he said they didn't have enough to keep track of. She insisted she wanted to learn to keep accounts. Then, when they got rich, she'd know how."

"I don't need to tell you how they prospered. Three of the sweetest children in the world, and now a house Jack is proud as he can be."

"Yes," interrupted Helen, "but how did she do it?"

"The very first week after she started her checking account at the bank she took the money she saved and opened a savings account in the thrift department, where she got interest on her savings. You see, she was determined to save at least 10 per cent of her income. She saved steadily. She asked me to help her plan things, and together we worked out a budget so she could divide her income to meet her expenses. When her plan was working well she told Jack."

"He was tickled to death. Then he began to save too. Francine wanted real home. They saved for that. They have married six years now and they haven't a debt in the world. The excellent food, my dear, was prepared by Francine herself, just as her pretty clothes are made by her from remnants and odds and ends picked up at bargain prices."—A. P. Ayres.

Actions Decide Worth

Not alone to know, but to act according to the knowledge, is the destination, proclaims the voice of my latest soul, wrote Fichte, German philosopher. Not for indolent contemplation and study of itself, nor for brooding over emotions of pity, no, for action, was existence given these, the actions and the actions alone, determine thy worth.

Moon Lengthens Months

The effect of the tidal waves on the moon is to take her gradually away from the earth. As the distance of the moon from the earth is increased the length of time required for the planet to circle the earth is also lengthened so that over a period of ages the month will be some many days longer. The Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery.

Myrtle Turner, plaintiff vs. Verne Turner, defendant.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery.

In this cause it appearing by affidavit on file that the defendant, Verne Turner, cannot be found in this state and it is unknown where and in what state he resides.

On motion of Merle F. Nellist, Attorney for plaintiff, it is ordered that the appearance of said defendant, Verne Turner, be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order; and that in case of his appearance he cause his answer to the bill of complaint to be filed, and a copy thereof to be served on the attorney for plaintiff within fifteen days after service on him or his attorney of a copy of the said bill, and in default thereof that said bill be taken as confessed by the defendant.

And it is further ordered that the said plaintiff cause this order to be published in the Crawford Avalanche, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said county, and that such publication be continued therein once in each week for six weeks in succession, or that the said plaintiff cause a copy to be personally served on the defendant, Verne Turner, at least twenty days before the time above prescribed for his appearance.

Dated July 11th, 1927. GUY E. SMITH, Circuit Judge.

MERLE F. NELLIST, Attorney for plaintiff, Grayling, Michigan. 7-28-6

A cheap tube can cost you 10 times its price.....

THIRTY-NINE YEARS of tube-building experience has proved to Dunlop that "cheap tubes" do not pay.

That is why Dunlop tubes are made casing shaped. It costs a little more than to build them on a straight pole, as cheap tubes are built.

But a casing-shaped Dunlop tube is strong everywhere. The outside edge is not weakened by excess stretch. The side next to the rim has no wrinkles to crack with age and blow out. A Dunlop tube protects your casing, because it fits. And your casing is worth ten times the cost of the tube.

We strongly recommend a Dunlop tube for every casing.

A Word of Warning

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) feels in duty bound to warn its thousands of patrons in the Middle West to beware of "bootleg" gasoline.

Due to an overproduction of crude oil the market is flooded with unbranded gasoline sold at a cheap price. It is high at any price. It is neither uniform nor dependable.

When you buy gasoline you are buying transportation for yourself and your family. We suggest that you buy dependable transportation.

Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline will give you a maximum of power, flexibility and speed. It costs a few cents more per gallon but it "knocks out that knock".

Our famous economy fuel, Red Crown Gasoline will give you a maximum of power at a minimum of cost.

Both products are sold everywhere in the Middle West and everywhere the same—at a price which is fair, just and equitable, consistent with quality, uniformity and dependability.

Junior is 13 years old and came back a full-fledged scout and had the honor while at camp of winning a medal for swimming of which he is extremely proud. He was at the camp for two weeks outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lathrop of Chicago returned home Thursday after a visit with the latter's sister, Mrs. Frank Ahman. Mrs. Lathrop will be remembered as Miss Gudrun Olson, who at one time made her home with the Ahmans here. On leaving Grayling she went to Chicago, where she has since graduated from one of the largest hospital training schools of that city.

The death of Thomas Russell Morgan of Covington, Ky., age 64 years, occurred at Grayling Mercy hospital, Sunday night at five o'clock, from an abscess on his left lung. The deceased was a coal dealer of Covington, and had been resorting at Higgins Lake, when he took ill and had been at the hospital since June 22nd. The remains were taken to Lexington, Kentucky for burial, Monday afternoon.

The members of the Grange wish to thank one and all who attended the Grange picnic at Beaver Creek last Saturday, for their splendid enthusiasm and taking part in the activities of the fair. A very large crowd of people were present and the brain with good things to eat, and everyone had a good time. Races and contests were enjoyed in the afternoon, and after a bountiful supper the good old dances were danced until a late hour.

A. J. Logan, instructor, and W. B. Fulghen, student, of the U. of M., Ann Arbor, and Robert Fulghen of Cleveland, arrived in Grayling Sunday and left Monday on a 300 mile canoe trip down the AuSable river to Oscoda. They were quite enthusiastic in anticipating a fine trip. Many parties take this wonderful trip annually, especially during the month of August, canoes leaving here almost daily. The memories of such trips are generally cherished for a lifetime.

William Everett Ross of LaGrange, Illinois, age 77 years and retired, who had been resorting at Higgins Lake, passed away at Grayling Mercy hospital of pneumonia, Saturday, having been brought to the hospital about a half-hour before his death. He had been ill at the lake for two days. The remains were taken to Manistee Monday by Sorenson Bros. funeral coach, J. W. Sorenson and Harry Sorenson accompanying same and conducting the funeral there from the First Methodist church.

A number of people from Grayling attended the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus at Petoskey Monday. The circus is one of the largest now enroute and Grayling people who attended will vouch that they give a fine entertainment. The trained seals, trapeze performers, horse back riding, and other stunts carried many of the older people back to the time when they would rise at five in the morning, watch the tents go up and feed the elephants when it was permissible. Then after struggling through the mob to gaze with wonder at the parade, hurried to the big tent where one heard the cry of "Ice cold pop" and "Buy a box of candy for the children."

During the big show the young appreciate the circus for its present thrill, the old for the present, and for the past memories it brings.

At the last quarterly conference of the Michelson Memorial church held Monday evening, Rev. J. W. Greenwood received a unanimous and hearty call to return to Grayling for next year. Rev. Greenwood was appointed to Grayling after Rev. Baughn left and has fitted the pulpit in a most acceptable manner. We believe Rev. Greenwood is a most valuable acquisition to this community. His sermons are scholarly, edifying and inspiring and he has a personality that assures clean living and thinking and has a friendly manner that wins permanent friends. It is not only the older people of the community who have learned to appreciate Rev. Greenwood, but he is a favorite with the young people, too. In the Sunday School and out. The people here want him returned to Grayling and we trust the state board will not consider any other plan.
